By rescinding Regulation 1 (e), and substituting the following:—

"(e) 'B.C. approved' shall mean freedom from contagious or infectious diseases under control."

Regulations 12 to 26, inclusive, are renumbered as Regulations 4 to 18, inclusive.

Pursuant to section 54 (2) (l) of the said Act, the following regulations are made, providing for the control of disease of animals on a farm or ranch:—

"Control of Disease of Animals on a Farm or Ranch"

"19. A farmer or rancher who is producing cattle for beef purposes may apply to the Chief Veterinary Inspector to have his herd and farm or ranch brought under control for the eradication of brucellosis, and upon acceptance of the application the applicant's herd and farm or ranch shall be subject to clauses (a), (b), (c), and (d) of this regulation.

"(a) The farmer or rancher shall provide for complete calfhood vaccination against brucellosis in accordance with the regular Federal-Provincial Calfhood Vaccination Policy under the direction of the Chief Veterinary Inspector until it is shown by suitable tests that the disease has been eradicated, when vaccination may be discontinued.

"(b) No animal shall be brought into the herd being controlled, except upon permit and with the approval of the Chief Veterinary Inspector.

"(c) Animals shall be required to be suitably blood-tested to the satisfaction of the Chief Veterinary Inspector before permit is issued for the purpose of being brought into the herd being controlled or on to the farm or ranch, or any of its pastures or ranges, except where such test is deemed unnecessary by the Chief Veterinary Inspector.

"(d) Animals, or groups of animals, within the herd being controlled which in the opinion of the Chief Veterinary Inspector may be diseased or possible active spreaders of brucellosis may be required to be blood-tested and either suitably isolated to the satisfaction of the Chief Veterinary Inspector or removed for slaughter. All reactors, when disposed of, must be sent to a packing-house for slaughter on permit from a Veterinary Inspector.

"20. A farmer who is the owner of a dairy herd and is an active member of a British Columbia Cow-testing Association may apply to have his herd and farm brought under control for the eradication of brucellosis, sterility, and mastitis, and upon acceptance of the application the applicant's herd and farm shall be subject to clauses (a) to (m), both inclusive, of this regulation.

"(a) All cattle in the herd must be blood-tested for brucellosis as required by the Chief Veterinary Inspector. Regular blood tests shall be made from time to time as deemed necessary by the Chief Veterinary Inspector.

"(b) Examination of all milking cattle in the herd for evidence of mastitis must be made as required by the Chief Veterinary Inspector and in keeping with the requirements under the 'Milk Act.'

"(c) All buildings, yards, and equipment must be regularly cleansed and disinfected as required by the Chief Veterinary Inspector.

"(d) Where any contagious or infectious disease is found in the herd under control or on the premises, the Chief Veterinary Inspector may arrange a conference with the owner in order to deal with the situation.

"(e) A herd being controlled may be placed under quarantine at any time if deemed necessary by the Chief Veterinary Inspector.

"(f) Where reactors to the agglutination blood test for brucellosis are found, such animals, when removed, must be sent to a packing-house for slaughter only.

"(g) Where mastitis is found in a herd, prompt treatment must be applied to the satisfaction of the Veterinary Inspector, and any incurable cases must be removed and sent for slaughter or otherwise isolated to the satisfaction of the Veterinary Inspector.

"(h) Where laboratory services are deemed necessary, such service shall be provided by the Department of Agriculture.

"(i) Where brucellosis has been found in a herd being controlled, calfhood vaccination in accordance with the regular Federal-Provincial Calfhood Vaccination Policy must be undertaken. Where three complete blood tests have been made over a period of one year, and if no brucellosis has been found in a herd on any one of the tests, calf vaccination shall be optional.

"(j) A complete record of health and production must be kept of all animals in the herd being controlled, such record to include a full case-history of any irregularity affecting any animal in the herd. A complete breeding record, including heat periods, must be kept, giving dates of services and number of services for each conception. A copy of the pedigree of any registered pure-bred animal in the herd must be available.

"(k) Where required the owner shall provide the services of a satisfactory registered veterinary practitioner to carry out necessary treatments on animals, or to assist a Veterinary Inspector with such treatments.

"(l) Where a herd and the farm under control is found free from contagious or infectious diseases being controlled, the Chief Veterinary Inspector may issue to the owner thereof a B.C. Approved Certificate certifying that the herd and farm of such owner is free from the contagious or infectious diseases being controlled. Every herd and farm for which a B.C. Approved Certificate has been issued shall be regularly inspected and tested under the direction of the Chief Veterinary Inspector, and if found diseased the B.C. Approved Certificate issued in respect of that herd shall be surrendered by the owner to the Chief Veterinary Inspector for cancellation.

“(m) Cattle may not be removed from a herd or farm under control without a permit from the Chief Veterinary Inspector, except where the herd and farm are qualified as B.C. approved and in possession of a valid certificate. No live stock shall be brought on to the farm without having first obtained a permit from the Chief Veterinary Inspector.
